Imagery Expertise for Insight

AIRBUS

The key to effectively adapting and driving governmental and commercial actions is being able to:

- 1 Detect, monitor or confirm the status of an activity
- 2 Collect information
- 3 Access through activity analysis on a specific area

Smart Report is a tailored service providing imagery and geospatial intelligence to defence, international organisations, and private companies upon request. Using satellite image analysis, combined with other data and expert knowledge, our analysts are able to provide detailed insight and intelligence based on a customer's challenges and objectives over a specific Area of Interest (AOI).

On demand, quick and easy global access

Ordering a Smart Report is easy, customers simply define their parameters on our website and provide:

- Contact details;
- AOI (Area of Interest);
- A short summary of the request.

Our experts receive the request, assess the feasibility and coherence of the parameters and then will contact the customer directly. They begin the monitoring process, setting up the correct sensors to answer even the most complex request. An emergency option is available, as well as the addition of the image(s) in the report, to focus on what really matters.
